1. What Is Shopify And How Does It Work?

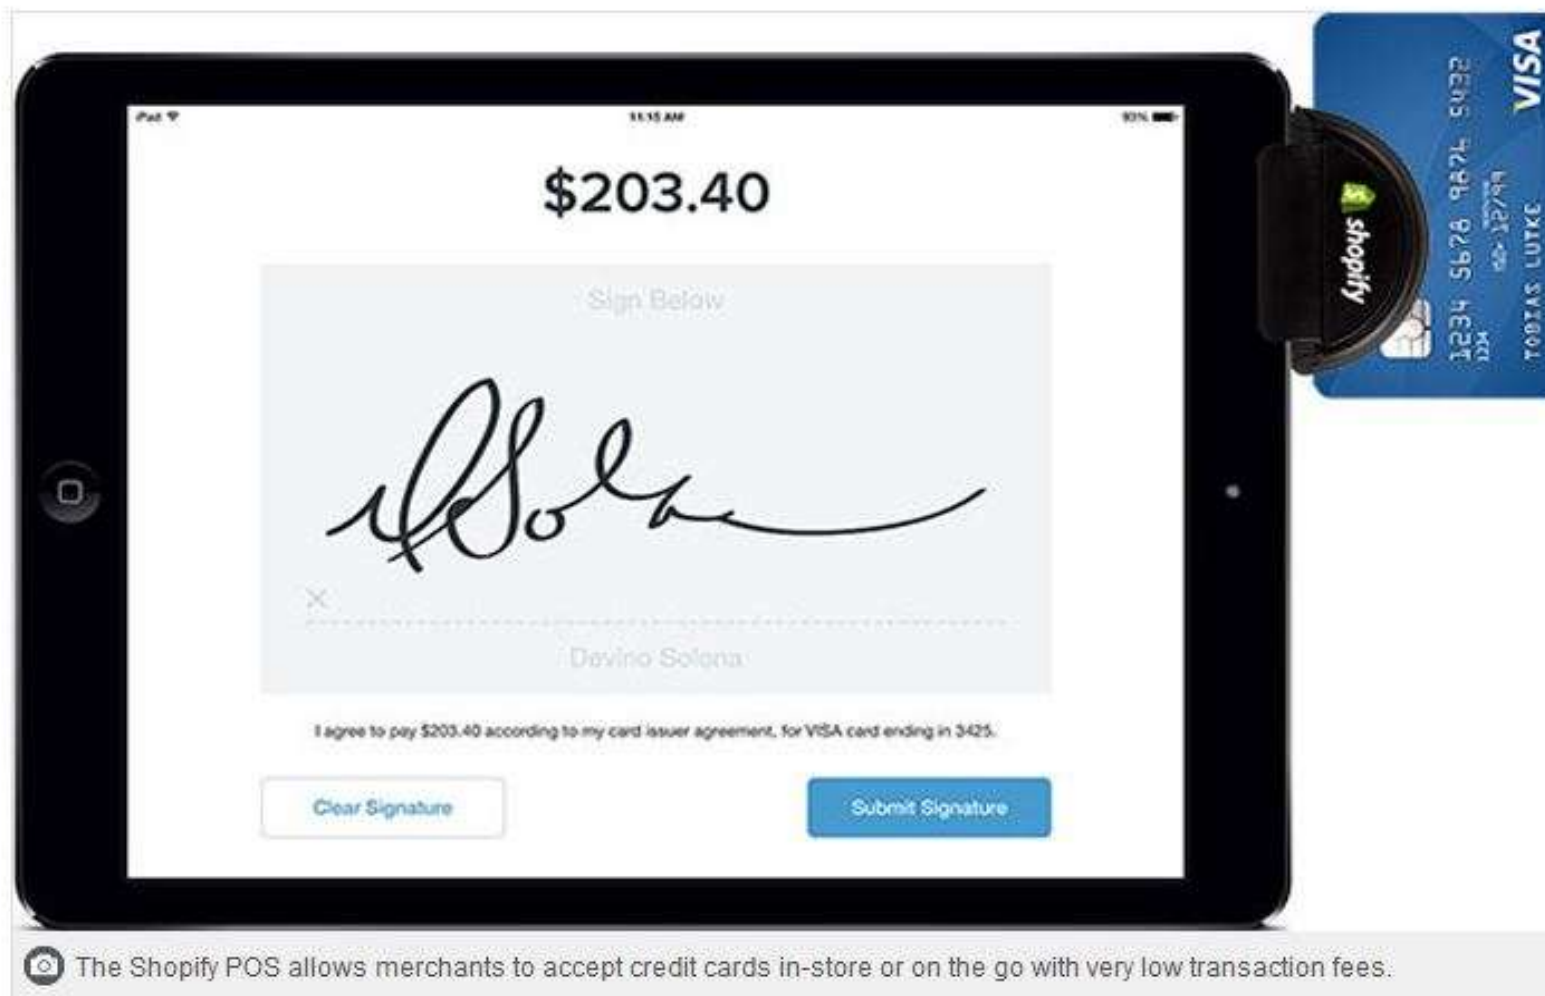

If you're looking to sell products online but don't have a ton (or any) experience in web development or coding, don't worry. Shopify offers a comprehensive eCommerce web builder complete with hundreds of templates ready to go right out of the box.

Signing up is simple, and Shopify offers a 14-day free trial, so merchants can test out the platform to see if it's right for them. All Shopify templates can be customized with images, logos, text, and videos to complement your brand's look. Once your theme is chosen, you can start selling right away with the platform's built-in shopping carts.

4. What is Shopify Payments (POS)?

Not only can consumers use all the major credit cards while checking out on a Shopify site, but merchants can also use Shopify's POS system to accept credit card payments in the store or at pretty much any location.

The Shopify POS allows merchants to accept credit cards in-store or on the go with very low transaction fees.

With the Shopify card reader, businesses can enjoy low rates — down to 2.4 % — on all credit card transactions. The POS system syncs payment details with orders, giving merchants visibility into incoming revenue. Shopify also generates chargeback responses so businesses can recover lost sales.

Themes for your online store

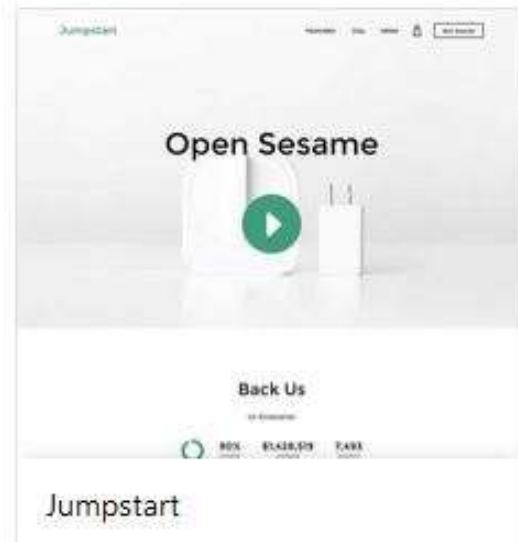

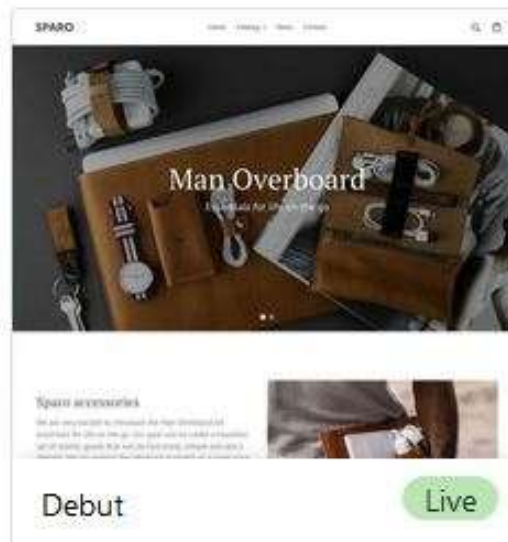

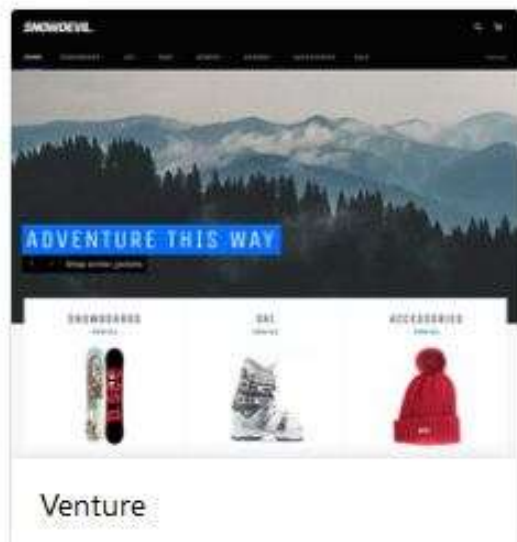

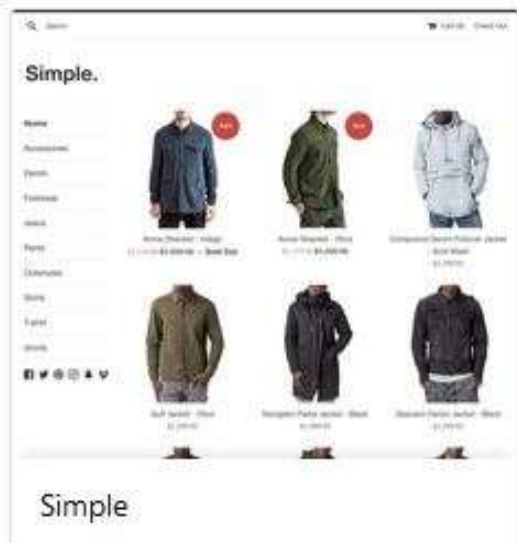

A theme is a template that determines the way that your online store looks and feels. Different themes have different styles and layouts, and offer a different experience for your customers. For example, if you're selling spa products, then you probably want your online store to feel relaxed and luxurious. Alternatively, if you're selling electronics, then you might want your online store to look energetic and sleek.

You can customize your theme settings from your Shopify admin by using the theme editor. If your theme doesn't have a setting for a change that you want to make, then you can edit your theme code.

When you make changes to your theme or switch to a new theme, it doesn't affect the other parts of your account. You can play around with different theme styles and settings without worrying about the rest of the content in your admin.

Taxes

As a merchant, you might need to charge taxes on your sales, and then report and remit those taxes to your government. Although tax laws and regulations are complex and can change often, you can set up Shopify to automatically handle most common sales tax calculations. You can also set up tax overrides to address unique tax laws and situations.

Shopify uses many default sales tax rates, which are updated regularly. If you use the default rates, then you need to confirm that they are current and correct for your particular circumstances. You can override them whenever necessary.

Shopify doesn't file or remit your sales taxes for you. You might need to register your business with your local or federal tax authority to handle your sales tax. The calculations and reports that Shopify provides should help make things easier when it's time to file and pay your taxes.

You should always check with a local tax authority or a tax accountant to make sure that you charge your customers the correct sales tax rates, and to make sure you file and remit the taxes correctly.

The Shopify Lite Plan

The Lite plan goes for $9 per month and gives you tools for selling on Facebook, accepting credit card payments and using Buy buttons. It's not exactly a real online store with a shopping cart, but it does the trick for smaller companies. I also like it if you're trying to install a few basic Buy buttons on an existing website, like for your blog or podcast website.

The screenshot displays the Shopify Lite interface. On the left, there are three product cards for watches: a red watch, a violet watch, and a green watch. The violet watch is highlighted with a 'Buy now' button and a price of $80.00. To the right, the text 'Copy, paste, and start selling' is followed by a description: 'Turn any website into a money-making business in seconds with Buy Buttons. Whether you're on WordPress, Squarespace, Tumblr, or anywhere else, with just a few clicks you can turn your website into an online store.' Below this is a link 'Sell with Buy Button'. Further down, the text 'Accept credit cards anywhere' is followed by a description: 'Sell at events, fairs, popups, and anywhere your business takes you. Our point of sale app makes it easy to accept payments with your iOS or Android devices.' Below this is a link 'Sell in person'. On the right side of the screenshot, there is a green background with a white 'S' logo and a 'Like' button with a thumbs up icon.

A new addition involves the Facebook Messenger app, which is included with Shopify Lite and allows you to chat with customers through the Facebook Messenger. This is perfect for customer support.

Who is this Shopify Pricing plan best for?

Shopify Lite won't work just by purchasing a hosting plan – the intent with Shopify Lite is to add ecommerce functionality to something you already have like a blog or information site. Therefore, you need a full website already configured with hosting, a domain and everything. For example, you could install Shopify Lite on a WordPress site.

The Basic Shopify Plan

No transaction fees ⓘ

Fraud analysis tools ⓘ

The Basic Shopify Plan takes it up a notch since you receive a discount code engine, fraud analysis tools and the ability to upload an unlimited number of products to your store. The primary step up is the fact that you gain a fully functional website and blog through Shopify. Therefore, all of your products and orders are managed through Shopify, and you won't need a separate website to make it work.

Some other perks include a free SSL certificate, manual order creation, shipping labels, unlimited file storage and 24/7 support.

The pricing structure is set at $29 per month + 2.9% and 30¢ per transaction, which is a bit higher than the Lite Plan, but it gives you the freedom to expand your store with tons of products.

Who is this Shopify Pricing plan best for?

If you need a beautiful and functional online store, but you don't want to pay for the features in the more expensive Shopify Plan, this is the sweet spot for you. It's also the plan you go with if you don't already have a website that you can pair with the Lite plan.

What Are The Pros & Cons Of Shopify?

Pros

- Easy To Use: This is by far the biggest reason merchants love Shopify. Shopify is built for the technically illiterate. It's simple to add products, create discounts, and process orders. Web design is user-friendly — and even easy — with the new drag-and-drop editing tool.
- Low Startup Cost: Shopify's relatively low monthly fees make setup affordable. How much does Shopify cost, you ask? The basic plan costs $29/month and the mid-level plan is priced at $79/month.
- Beautiful Themes: Subscribing merchants can choose from a variety of free, mobile responsive themes. Premium (paid) themes are also available for merchants who want more options.
- Good For Dropshippers: Shopify is the platform of choice for many dropshippers. Integrations with Ordoro and Oberlo make dropshipping from your Shopify admin a lot simpler.
- Lots Of Support Options: You can access technical support every hour of the day through phone, live chat, or email. Self-help options are available as well. Customers like that support is available outside of regular business hours.

What Are The Pros & Cons Of Shopify?

Cons

- Limited Functionality: Shopify comes pre-loaded with almost all of the features smaller merchants need to build an online store. However, every business has some specialized requirements, and Shopify typically does not have the features to meet those specific needs. This is where add-ons come in. Many merchants end up needing to purchase a handful of add-ons to make this shopping cart work the way they need it to.
- Costly Add-Ons: As I've said, while Shopify offers almost every basic feature, the software is lacking many advanced features. You'll have to find these features in the form of add-ons, which are not free. The cost of adding just three add-ons can double your monthly fees.
- Transaction Fees: Although most shopping carts have dropped their transaction fees entirely, Shopify has retained their 0.5% to 2.0% fees (depending on your pricing plan).
